

Introduced by Senator Oller

February 10, 2004

An act to amend Section 30417 of the Public Resources Code, relating to coastal resources.

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

SB 1199, as introduced, Oller. Coastal resources: special treatment areas.

Existing law requires the California Coastal Commission to identify special treatment areas within the coastal zone and to forward maps of the designated special treatment areas and recommendations to the State Board of Forestry and Fire Protection to assist the board in adopting rules and regulations that adequately protect the natural and scenic qualities of the special treatment areas. The board is required to consider these recommendations when developing rules and regulations for the conduct of timber operations.

This bill would make nonsubstantive, technical changes in those provisions.
